

SOUND MAPPING

- Pick your own listening space in your classroom or somewhere in your school.
- Write your name and the date, time and place in the boxes below.
- Mark yourself in the middle of the box below using a cross, an ear, or a little self-portrait!
- Listen carefully for 1 minute to all the sounds around you.
- After a minute, try drawing the sounds you heard in the box below.
- Think about what direction the sounds came from. How can you represent different volumes, how near or far away sounds were, and whether they were constant or stopping and starting?
- Compare your Sound Map with your classmates. Did you hear different things?
